Do you know, my child, who came before you?
The stories, the lives that brought you to this earth...

Do you know your history, my child?
Who are the spirits that are carried inside you?

ELSE ARNTZEN
PLANT PERSPECTIVE
DRAWING

An abstract painting by Else Arntzen, featuring a dense and complex composition of colors and textures. The palette is dominated by dark, rich tones of black and deep red, interspersed with bright, vibrant colors like yellow, blue, and white. The brushwork is highly expressive and gestural, with thick, layered applications of paint that create a sense of depth and movement. The overall effect is one of intense energy and emotional intensity, with no discernible figures or objects, only a chaotic and beautiful interplay of color and form.

THE PRAYER
ANONYMOUS

And though her wings were broken,
The Angel lifts her head to the heavens;

God had condemned her to this cruel world;
She had fallen out of favor, out of His mercy.

But the angel held no sorrow.
Nor ill will towards her God;
for everything was a blessing.

Forsaken from paradise,
the angel wanders on alone
Waiting for God to forgive her.

Blessed are the ones who wander,
Amen.
